

IZZI'S MEGAPHONE

The kids will make this craft to help them practice using their voice to speak up for what is right, remembering the example from the Bible story about Esther.

DIRECTIONS

PREP

1. Print out Izzi's Megaphone printable on 11x17" card stock. (1 per child)
2. Cut out the megaphone.
3. Use a hole and punch 2 holes at the top where indicated.
4. Cut 30-inch pieces of yarn or ribbon (1 per child).
5. Gather Izzi's Megaphone printables, stickers (optional), yarn or ribbon pieces, tape, and crayons or markers for the leaders.

MAKE

1. Pass out the Izzi's Megaphone printables (1 per child) and coloring and decorating supplies for the kids to share.
2. As the kids begin coloring, read the Big Idea out loud. Say, our Big Idea says I can have bold faith when I speak up for what is right!
3. Ask: What is something that will help us speak up for what is right? (Pause for kids to identify their megaphones.)
4. Megaphones are special tools to help make our voices nice and loud. We can use our voices to ask for help, tell the truth, and tell others about Jesus!
5. When the kids are done coloring, help them wrap their megaphone and tape it together.
6. Thread and tie the yarn or ribbon through the holes at the top of the megaphone, making a lanyard for the kids to wear their megaphones.
7. While the kids color and create, discuss the Talking Points.

SUPPLIES NEEDED

Izzi's
Megaphone
printable

Yarn or ribbon

Scissors

Crayons or markers

Tape

Hole Punch

TALKING POINTS

- Who spoke up for what is right in the Bible story?
- How can we speak up for what is right?
- Who helps us be brave and do hard things?