

Hey Toddler Parents,

Our lives are filled with interruptions. It often seems like a day never goes exactly the way we planned it. Traffic jams, missed alarms, or sick kids can throw a wrench in the best-laid plans. But the story of the Good Samaritan reminds us that interruptions are often God-ordained opportunities to help someone. The Samaritan was on his way somewhere. He wasn't planning on stopping to spend his time, money, and energy to help a stranger. But when he saw the opportunity, he didn't hesitate to help. It's not always easy to help others in need, but it's one of the reasons God created us: to care for and help each other. May we look for opportunities to be a Good Samaritan this week.

GOD
MADE
ME!

Here are some practical ways to connect what your kids are hearing and learning about at church to their daily lives:

- When you recognize certain positive character traits in your toddler, remind them that God made them that way. "God made you kind," "God made you silly," etc. Reinforce as often as you can that God made them.

• Do something kind for a neighbor this week and involve your toddler in the action. (Examples: Bake cookies for an elderly neighbor, pick up a piece of litter you see in a neighbor's yard, etc.) Remind them "God made us to love and help our neighbors."

Hey Toddler Parents,

Our lives are filled with interruptions. It often seems like a day never goes exactly the way we planned it. Traffic jams, missed alarms, or sick kids can throw a wrench in the best-laid plans. But the story of the Good Samaritan reminds us that interruptions are often God-ordained opportunities to help someone. The Samaritan was on his way somewhere. He wasn't planning on stopping to spend his time, money, and energy to help a stranger. But when he saw the opportunity, he didn't hesitate to help. It's not always easy to help others in need, but it's one of the reasons God created us: to care for and help each other. May we look for opportunities to be a Good Samaritan this week.

GOD
MADE ME!

Here are some practical ways to connect what your kids are hearing and learning about at church to their daily lives:

- When you recognize certain positive character traits in your toddler, remind them that God made them that way. "God made you kind," "God made you silly," etc. Reinforce as often as you can that God made them.

• Do something kind for a neighbor this week and involve your toddler in the action. (Examples: Bake cookies for an elderly neighbor, pick up a piece of litter you see in a neighbor's yard, etc.) Remind them "God made us to love and help our neighbors."

WATCH THIS MONTH'S LESSON
WITH YOUR TODDLER!

SADDLEBACKKIDS.COM

SADDLEBACK KIDS

WATCH THIS MONTH'S LESSON
WITH YOUR TODDLER!

SADDLEBACKKIDS.COM

SADDLEBACK KIDS